Hailed in Europe as an instant classic, We, the Drowned is the story of the port town of Marstal, Denmark, whose inhabitants sailed the world from the mid-nineteenth century to the end of the Second World War. The novel tells of ships wrecked and blown up in wars, of places of terror and violence that continue to lure each generation; there are cannibals here, shrunken heads, prophetic dreams, and miraculous survivals.

"We, The Drowned" is a truly epic novel of generations of sailors from Marstal on the small Danish island of Aero. It begins with war against Germany in 1848 to the end of the Second World War in 1945 and many commercial voyages in between. There is an indelible image that sticks in my mind from the novel.
